

EACR

AstraZeneca

POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS

Supporting excellent postdoctoral researchers in laboratories throughout Europe and the world
eacr.org/eacr-fellowships

Postdoctoral Fellowships, funded by AstraZeneca, awarded for a period of up to three years

Proposals

Proposed research projects must:

- be basic and/or translational in nature
- have direct applicability and relevance to: breast, bladder, lung, prostate, ovarian or paediatric cancer

Projects should focus on one of the following:

- Cell Therapy
- Immunotherapy
- Tumour drivers and resistance
- Mechanisms of sensitivity / resistance to PARP inhibitors and other DNA Damage Response inhibitors
- Mechanisms of sensitivity and resistance to antibody drug conjugates
- Epigenetics
- Haematology

Eligibility

- EACR Early Career Member become a member at eacr.org/membership
- Work actively and currently in cancer research
- Have had at least one first (or joint first)

author primary research paper published in an international peer reviewed journal

- Be based at a European academic institution for the duration of the Fellowship, with the potential to arrange a placement at an AstraZeneca site

How to apply

Submit through the application portal on the website: eacr.org/eacr-fellowships

Deadline to submit outline proposals:
14 February 2022 at 23:59 CET

Deadline for shortlisted applicants to submit full proposals:
27 June 2022 at 23:59 CEST

Any Questions?

Contact Kathryn Wass
kathryn.wass@eacr.org